Every single day with you has filled our lives
Lessons you have learned late into the night
Leaving for a different life, on graduation night
Congratulations we love you always,

What is a son?

When he's small, he's adventure and action and noise,
A link to the wonderful world of small boys.
As he grows, he's a mixture of mischief and good,
That smile is one we'd resist if we could.
All at once he's a teenager, and we're glad he's the one,
We lovingly point to and say, He's Our Son!

Each Stage of your life has brought its own special joys, its own treasured memories. And graduation is the perfect time to celebrate those memories. . . .to celebrate the pride and happiness that come from having a son like you.
